I love how the song is sung, but also playing the piano. There are also other instruments. Which is awesome! But the two biggest things that bother me the most are Complaints. Many of you have probably heard that there is Too much add, so that's exactly what I hate. You start with how a song of a thousand and half of the songs need you to watch an add just to unlock it ONCE. Then you have to see an add-on again just to play the same song. And on top of that, it adds a lot pop-up without you wanting to get a song. My second complaint is about how many songs there are, but only and rarely unlock a few. I love a lot of the songs and singers there, but I barely have any songs. I also have one more complaint. It's small, but it's still a complaint. I don't like you having to click on the tiles on the line. Most token games don't have that, and I know people who are more comfortable catching chips at the top and others at the bottom. Some in the middle. It's not fair that you have to click the second line and the tile meet because it's very overwhelming. Games without these are more relaxing and stress free. I hope you could bring these offers and complaints into consideration. Thank you. I only gave three because it is the closest I can give for not having a qualification since three is considered neutral. I just wanted to say that you all with your reviews disappoint me. Some good ones here do, but then I see five-star reviews telling HOW YOU'RE DRIVING to give less than five stars and ignore all haters, while other people are completely free to give their own opinion. I also see reviews of a star who literally just say the worst game ever without why, 2-4 stars just saying one side of what they thought and letting out what they liked or not, five stars treating the game like a holy grail and among all the ratings I've seen... You all don't know how to write, or use basic grammar. It's really a shame this is what reviews of literally every game tend to be though... not just this app. Me? I don't care. If you think I have no life to say all this (for us to be real, my review on some piano app isn't doing anything), then you're absolutely right. I just needed to ban something to clear my boredom for a second love this game because it has my favorite songs in them and it's easy to do the part of playing. I'll wrap it up from time to time, it's great about it. And I was very surprised when I realized I had my favorite song, it's called old town road. I am really impressed about how you designed this game. But can you add more songs to it? Because I try to find them and I realize you guys don't have the song. And I'm still fine with that. But I still love this game! When I just started playing, I was confused about what to do and how to do it, but now I know everything about this game! I don't think I'll be deleting this game in any Soon. But my older brother, Tyler, would say: You should take a break from this game, take a break from your iPad!! How rude is this?! Anyway, I will play this game hours, and sometimes, when my iPad dies, it puts me on my mom's phone, my dad's phone, or sometimes even my brother's phone. But I love this app, so please add a little more to make it more exciting than it's already! -Alayna Morris :) I love games like this, and I had a lot of expectations for the game when I first got an add for it. I saw that I had audio, it went super fast that I liked, but the biggest thing that got me to download the app, was that the addition I got for it, said there was NO ADD. Now, I downloaded the app and realized that THERE WAS adds, but that didn't bother me much, because the rest was pretty cool, or so I thought. Now here's my thing, every thing is great, it even adds them, except for the fact that the piano moment was out with the rhythm of the song, and that audio for the person singing sounded SUPER weird. Like, I don't know if it's something with my audio jack or what, but that's just something I kinda noticed and it bothers me a lot. It's a bit of fun ruins for me in a way, and it's one of my only games I hardly ever play. I think if you play the game without audio, it's a lot of fun, it's with the audio that bothers me. So... If you are going to get the game, but don't play it with audio, then you will definitely do it. But, if you're going to play with audio, then I'd say don't do it.
